JOHNSON SERVES NOTICE AGAINST LOWDEN OR WOOD

BY DAVID LAWRENCE. (Special Correspondent of The News Scimitar.) COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 8.—Senator Hiram Johnson has begun to exercise his veto power in the Republican national convention. Through his intimate friend and colleague, Senator Borah, of Idaho, he served notice that the people of the United States would, in his judgment, defeat the Republican party next November if it nominated either Leonard Wood or Gov. Lowden.

November if it nominated either

"We are not going to sell the presidency of the United States" exclaimed senator Borah just after Senator Johnson had finished addressing a throng of delegates and convention visitors and the general impression left by the two senators was that the Republican party need not expect the support of either one in the coming campaign if Wood or Lowden is named.

Hiram Johnson may not be able to get the presidency for himself, but he and his group now are determined that neither Wood nor Lowden shall get it and they have raised enough fuss already to make it probable that the new "old guard" will turn from both Lowden and Wood to the dark horses, Hughes, Lenrott, Sproul and Hoover are-the four most prominent candidates after the big three—Wood, Lowden and Johnson—have been eliminated.

Senator Johnson hasn't given up the fight. Senator Borah has announced he would fight on the convention floor against adoption of env compromise on the league of nations. No threat of a bolt has been made, but what is much worse, the two "Irreconcilable" senators have made it clear that they can not go out and stump for a platform that favors the league of nations with any reservations whatsoever.

The upshot of it all may be an independent ticket after all, with the opposition against the treaty and the league as the central motive and with the "wet" sentiment of both Democratic and Republican parties finding an outlet in that independent party.

Under Surface.

Senator Johnson hasn't said he would the league of the leagu

Senator Johnson hasn't said he would lead such a movement, but beneath the surface things are starting in that direction and it would not be surprising to find such an overwhelming and apontaneous demand for Johnson to lead the big following which he has built up that he will find it hard to turn them down.

There is talk also of a separate ticker with Herbert Hoover on it, if the Republican party should by chance accept the Johnson view on the league Certainly the chances of an independent ticket grow brighter as the differences on the treaty issue appear more and more irreconcilable.

But the embarrassments of the Republican leaders multiply as they obsert, the reckless testics of Senators

However, the police have as yet been unable to reconcile the difference in hours in which Wright and witnesses said the shooting occurred. Police, however, admit the possibility of Wright having been so frightened as not to realize what time it was when he was shot, but other hours given by Mra, Wright as the time of her arival at the bedside of her husband have not been reconciled.

the embarrassments of the Regularias multiply as they obthe reckless tactics of Schators on and Borah.

instance, here is a stenographic pt from Schator Borah's speech ared in the presence of Schator before a multitude of noisy atom and supporters: Johnson before a multitude of horsy delegates and supporters:
"Let me fell you," he said, "an ancient story. When Pertinax was slain in Rome, one gentleman thought he had to be emperor and bid, in our money, about $900,000 for it, and another rentieman bid $900,000 and they money, about $900,000 for it, and another other gentieman bid $900,500 and they auctioned and bid against one another until they got it up to $2,500,000 in our money, and it was knocked off to Julianus and they actually sold the emperorship of Rome for $2,500,000. Now, my friends, we are not going to sell the presidency of the United States for $1,500,000. That is too cheap. (Applause.)

"You think perhaps that on a little severe about this matter, but I am perfectly calm, and I am moderate in my view compared with what the American electorate will be when they pass upon this question.

Charges Veiled.

"I am not raying this because I have any fear of the Republican convention naming either one of these gentlemen (Wood or Lowden.) I am saying it because I think it utterly discreditable to the Republican convention that it would permit their mances to be considered after they had attempted to control that convention by the sheer use of money. of money. nesar's wife, he above suspects over affairs."
It is with such gentle thrusts hat he Borah-Johnsons are trying to rout he conservatives at this convention, lov. Lowden's lieutenants stand firm out they know they, as Republican eaders, know that they must satisfy Johnson to get his active support on the stump. So, in a nutshell, the Wood he Lowden booms may be said to be on the tologgan. The leaders will not immediately give up but the drift is already toward Hughes. Sproul, Hoover, Leuroot and the others who have figured less preminently in the primary sampaigns and the struggle for delegators. gates «Copyright, 1920, by David Lawrence)

The course of the bullet, according to hospita; attaches, would indicate it was fired while Wright was in such a position, as it struck high up in the shoulder and ranged downward. An X-ray was necessary to locate it. After the shooting the negroes fied.

Statements of W. L. Rice, 510 Exchange building, who, while riding with Herbert Crawford, 1997 Harbert avenue, was virtually a witness to the occurrence, conflict with Wright's statement. Bice said Tuesday that Wright's car was going east on the Pigeon Roost road at a rapid rate and that when it passed them it stopped with such suddenness as to skild the wheels. A woman in the car screamed two or three times: "Come here, please!" according to Rice.

"We figured it was amother auto bandit attempt," declared Rice, "and didn't stop until we reached Lewis' grocery store, hear the railroad tracks. Obtaining assistance, we returned to the automobile, which we found deserted, but standing across the roadway at right angles. The lights were burning and a man's hat was still in the car. "We do not know how the man and woman got away, but supposed that a car following us picked them up." Hours Conflict.

Statements of Wright's and Rice's conflict relative to the time of the shooting According to Mrs. Wright's Tugsday, the shooting occurred about 8 p.m. She said her husband was admitted to the Baptist hespital by a Mr. Sivas about 9 p.m., and she arrived there shout 10 o'clock. Hospital attaches stated Tuesday that the time of admittance to the institution was approximately 11 o clock. Rice said he was certain the shooting was later than, 8 o'clock, as he and Crawford left the business district in an automobile about 8.45 pm., and rode for some time around the Parkway and cross roads before they met with Wright's car. Rice estimated the time of the occurrence between 10 and 10:20 o'clock.

Rice also declared he heard no pistol shot.

Wright declared according to bit

Wright declared, according to his wife, that after he was shot, a Mr. Sivas, residing near the scene on the Pigeon Roost road, came by in an automobile containing two women and picked him up. Sivas and the two women carried him to the Baptist hospital.
Police said Tuesday it was possible for Rice and Crawford to have seen this car and that the occupants sought to stop them for assistance for the wounded man.
Detectives have been assigned to the case by Detective Chief W. T. Griffin in an effort to solve the mystery.
Wright's condition was reported good Tuesday, but only his wife was permitted to converse with him. An operation will be necessary to remove the bullet, which is imbedded in the flesh in the back some distance under the skin. The course or the bullet was traced by the X-ray and hospital attaches said Tuesday that unless complications developed. Wright's recovery was practically certain. Francis Quinn, city mail carrier, telephoned police headquarters about 19:30 oclock and reported baying heard the shots and upon investigation found the auto deserted. A passing negro told him according to police, that a passing autoful picked up the man and woman and took them back to town. Quinn also said he heard a woman's screams.

The property purchased is the southeast corner of Main and Keel, and is 150 feet square. The building will be of reinforced concrete construction, and will have an exterior finish of high-grade face bribt. The offices will be finished in hardwood. Rest rooms will be provided for employees, as will a model kitchen and dining room, where food will be procurable at cost price. The plant will be built on the 'day-light' plan, and will have all modern machinery. Liftingeraphing and steel engraving will be added by the company, which has not done this sort of work in the past. It is said that the capacity of the company will be six times as great as at present. The building, exclusive of the ground and machinery, will cost $75,000. A $200,000 company has been recently organized by the old company to massage the new plant. Work of construction will begin next February and it is thought that the company will be in its new home by July, 1921.

Begin On Thursday

Definite plans for the opening of an open-air market at Market square have been completed by Horace Johnson, commissioner, and J. H. Tull, city market superintendent, and this market will be opened to the clizens of North Memphis on Thursday morning. Announcement of this was made Tuesday by Commissioner Johnson.

The city's largest open-air market, to be located on city property on Front street at the foot of Jefferson avenue and extending north, is an assured fact of the acar future. Commissioner Johnson and Tuesday in announcing a preliminary impection of the ground at which time steps looking toward resurfacing the property and drainage will be gone into at length.

Commissioner Johnson will doubtless leave Memphis within the next two or three weeks for a trip of inspection to other cities having municipal markets in order to gather further data on the subject. Mr. Johnson is very anxions to have the Front street market at Jefferson and Front and water the city's auditorium at Poplar and Main streets and it is the present plan of the city to start the Front street market at Jefferson and Front and extend it northward until it connects with the auditorium property.

This market will be both wholesale and retail and will be operated on a large scale under present plans. The success of the municipal markets to date has been highly gratifying and a constant entargement until the needs of the entire city are well taken care of its contemplated.
